Summary

Passionate hands-on engineering leader with over 15+ years of building highly scalable, global products and platforms that span across different IT landscape and technologies. I'm adept at architecting distributed systems, nurturing/leading globally spread teams and blending business and technology to create big ticket business portfolios. In my current stint at Wipro, I conceptualized, secured funding, architected a product and scaled it to a double digit million dollar business.

Work Experience

Wipro Ltd as Global Head of Engineering & Product Strategy Jun 2013 to Till Date

- * I report to CTO org of Wipro and head the global engineering & strategy of Wipro's connected vehicle products. This is an award winning suite of products that uses IoT sensor data from connected vehicles, context from disparate sources to provide intelligence & experience at massive scale through a marketplace of digital services. This constitutes 42 data driven services from data from 9+ million trips powered by 184+ APIs/microservices, provided via a marketplace for B2B and B2C customers, channelled through voice bots, infotainment systems, kiosks, wearables, responsive web and mobile apps
- * Lead, grew and nurtured a 37 member global team of platform/product architects, backed developers, data scientists, mobile, web, voice, devops/CI/CD, API and UX designers and cut across cross-functionally to GTM and marketing in a fast paced setup
- * Buck stops at me for strategic planning, technology, roadmap creation, investments, delivery of releases. I'm responsible for maximizing RoI through technology innovation
- * Execute and manage the entire software development lifecycle (including design, development, testing, integration, delivery, documentation)
- * I speak exec with CXOs, customers and marketing events. I speak tech with development organizations, at technology shows and I implement my own modules.
- * Attracted, hired and nurtured "Aplayers"
